

SPEAKING A LOVE LANGUAGE IN DIALOGUE

Here are some examples of ways you can speak your spouse's love language in your dialogue time. These are just a few ways, be creative and use your dialogue time as a way to not only communicate intimately, but also to love your spouse in their primary love language.

Words of Affirmation	Begin your love letter with an endearing quality Begin your love letter by thanking them for something they did that day
Quality Time	Do a prayer or short bible reading before your dialogue Have additional conversation after your dialogue
Receiving Gifts	Present your love letter as a gift with a kiss Tuck a piece of candy inside your notebook
Acts of Service	Put the children to bed early Clear the dinner dishes so you can dialogue earlier Gather a list of dialogue questions to choose from Set up a special dialogue place in your home
Physical Touch	Sit close together during dialogue Touch in some way as you share your love letters and dialogue (hold hands, touch feet, put your arm around your spouse)